Wound Healing Center at Grays Harbor Community Hospital Names Clinical Nurse Manager

Local News

Posted by: David Haviland

Posted on : October 19, 2009 at 11:10 am

Aberdeen, WA – Misty Campbell, RN, has joined the Wound Healing Center at Grays Harbor Community Hospital as its clinical nurse manager. Scheduled to open in November at 1006 North H Street in Aberdeen, the Wound Healing Center will specialize in the treatment of chronic wounds and non-responsive conditions.

Bringing nearly 10 years of experience to the center, Campbell will be responsible for all clinical aspects of the center including providing continuity of care for patients, integrating new therapies into care and training new personnel, reviewing and reporting on patient outcomes and ensuring quality of care.

Campbell most recently served as Practice Manager at Southeast Colorado Hospital District Rural Health Clinic where she was responsible for coordinating and overseeing the daily activities of the clinic.

She received a Licensed Practical Nurse degree from Lamar Community College in Lamar, Co., an associate degree in nursing from Otero Junior College in La Junta, Colo. and will receive a bachelor’s degree in nursing from Western Governor’s University in Salt Lake City in April.

The Wound Healing Center at Grays Harbor Community Hospital is a National Healing Corporation Wound Healing Center offering hospital-based outpatient wound care and hyperbaric oxygen therapy as well as disease management and diabetes care.

About National Healing Corporation

Founded in 1996 and headquartered in Boca Raton, Fla., with offices in Tampa, Fla., and Louisville, Ky., National Healing Corporation provides management services and the latest technology and expertise in wound healing to its client hospitals to establish quality wound healing programs. The Joint Commission has awarded National Healing Disease-Specific Care Certification for wound care. Committed to health care compliance and best practice medicine, National Healing emphasizes these priorities in its extensive clinical and business training programs. The privately-held company accounts for 30 percent of all managed and outsourced wound centers in the United States. For more information, please visit www.nationalhealing.com