Grays Harbor Raceway the fast 3/8’s clay oval ASA Member Track , located at the Fairgrounds in Elma, Washington, will be in action again this Saturday Night. Four divisions will be in action for the third points event of the year, the Whitney’s Auto Group 360 ASCS Sprint Cars, Shipwreck Beads Modifieds, Cut Rate Auto Parts Hobby Stocks and the Hornets.

Last week saw great racing on the new clay surface as the Sprint Car and Midgets main events both went green to checkered, HVD Henry Van Dam came out on top in the Sprint Cars, while 2009 Champion Seth Hespe won the Focus Midget main. The Modified main was outstanding as former champions Scott Miller and Josh Muller battled all 25 laps with Miller coming out ahead as he won his second feature in a row.

Snohomish driver Seth Bergman continues to lead the Whitney’s Auto Group point standings with 229 points, Henry Van Dam from Enumclaw is 9 points back at 220. Shelton’s Jay Cole is in third with 213, followed by Tacoma’s Shawn Rice with 200 points and 2009 champion Glenn Borden Jr. from Raymond in fifth with 196. Bergman leads the point standings 119 to 109 over Cole.

Scott Miller from Shelton, a four time Modified Champion has a 24 point lead 234 to 210 in the Shipwreck Beads Modified division over Montesano’s Josh Muller the 2009 champion. Mr. Consistency James Wolford Seabeck holds down third in the points parade with 201 points. Shelton driver Del Schnitzer has been the big surprise so far in the Modified division as he sits in fourth spot with 165 points. Aberdeen’s Greg Dineen had a great run coming from the back of the field to finish in fourth, after sustaining heavy damage on opening night.

The Dominator Zack Simpson won his second Cut Rate Auto Parts Hobby Stock feature in a row last Saturday night, and holds 15 point lead over Jack Parshall Jr. 238 to 223. Tom Sweatman moved into third position with 214 points followed by Gig Harbor’s Derek Junell with 211 and Olympia’s Eddie Blood with 199.
